Vortragender: Frank Grosshans

Titel: The invariant theory of unipotent groups

Inhalt: The three great problems of invariant theory are:

- (1) what is the structure of the algebra of invariants, especially is it finitely generated?
- (2) how can the algebra of invariants be used to construct good orbit spaces;
- (3) how can the invariants themselves be constructed explicitly?

During the twentieth century, great progress was made in understanding these problems for reductive groups. However, our understanding for unipotent groups is not nearly as advanced. The purpose of these (three) lectures is to provide an overview of our knowledge by stating theorems and giving examples.

Wir laden alle Interessierten herzlich zu diesen Vorträgen ein.
